About me.

Dedicated Early Childhood Teacher passionate about encouraging children to develop socially, emotionality and intellectually.

I am a creative, enthusiastic and patient person, qualities that I consider very important for children's education especially during their early years. In the last years, I have enjoyed working with a variety of age ranges of children - from three months to six year old - and from many different nationalities, which has allowed me to gain experience.

These past few years working in the UK under the EYFS framework and doing what I love the most has helped me to develop me professionally and personally.
